

I think there are more important issues than trying to limit a pay subscription service that is provided by a private company. You have already banned Howard Stern and other radio personalities from having free speech, and I will be damned if you try to take over a PAY SERVICE inwhich you have NO DAMN AUTHORITY OR RIGHT to change or sensor. I beleive that if you want to do the right thing, keep your nose in the public sector and out of the private.